Let Us Wash Your Walls WITH THIS NEWLY INVENTED MACHINE

Wouldn't you like to see your painted walls looking like the cleaned portion in this illustration? You can have a duplicate of this work with no "house-cleaning" muss or effort on your part. For years you have been cleaning your painted walls by hand by the pail-soap-sponge method. Now you can have them cleaned... really cleaned... by the newly invented VON SCHRADER WALL DETERGER, a machine developed just for this purpose.

PRESERVES PAINT — It will retain its original beauty for many years. Surface dirt, if not removed, works into the paint so that a costly repaint job is necessary. Only once in 10 years—yet the paint on the walls is always new-looking as do the work. It's as handsome as a fine radio cabinet. Your walls and ceilings are cleaned without confusion or inconvenience. No dripping water or sud-

Cancer Society Seeks Volunteers

A call for volunteers willing to drive area cancer patients to Buffalo and back has been issued by the local unit of the American Cancer Society.

Roderick B. Jones, executive secretary of the local unit, said that resources of the chapter will not meet the demand for transportation expenses, and that "the gap must be filled by volunteers with cars who are willing to give of their time and gasoline to those less fortunate than they."

The trips usually will be to Roswell Park Memorial Institute and return on the same day, Jones said.

The society has been paying cash for bus fares where necessary.

"We hope to form a pool of volunteer drivers on whom we can call when the need arises," he stated. Persons willing to donate their services should call the American Cancer Society office in the Hotel Jamestown.

Board Approves Free Parking

MAVVILLE — Free parking in the business district until Christmas was approved at an emergency session of the Village Board Saturday.

Wilson B. McConnell, chairman of the parking committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said the belated action was taken to afford all shoppers unrestricted parking during the pre-holiday season.

The subject came before the regular meeting two weeks ago, the chairman said but no action could be taken because a quorum was not present.

He indicated that Mayor John Bertram authorized the committee to proceed with covering the parking meters in the district with "hoods" which will consist of paper bags with a printed inscription proclaiming that no coins need be placed in the devices.

Similar action was taken a year ago, the first Christmas season since the meters were erected in this village.
